{ ABOUT PAWS }

Philadelphia Animal Welfare Society (PAWS), Philadelphia's largest no-kill shelter and the city's largest rescue partner, is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization dedicated to saving Philadelphia's unwanted, surrendered and abandoned animals. Through its adoption locations, special events, and foster care network, PAWS finds loving homes for thousands of animals each year. Support for PAWS funds programs that help directly reduce, and will ultimately eliminate, the unnecessary killing of Philadelphia's animals.

All proceeds from Chefs' Dinner for PAWS 2014 benefit the newest location; 1810 Grant Avenue, a mixed use Adoption Center and Wellness Clinic. This location, opened in June 2014, houses cats and dogs for adoption along with kittens available for fostering, and features a full clinic to service the neediest pets with basic veterinary care and spay/neuter surgeries.

PAWS' adoptions, which are at an all-time high, are based in part out of its boutique-style adoption center in the Old City section of Philadelphia. It is open seven days a week and houses cats and dogs looking for loving homes.

Our Spay/Neuter & Wellness Clinic, in the Grays Ferry section of the city, allows PAWS to save hundreds more homeless pets, to curb the number of stray and unwanted animals born each year, and to reduce the number of animals surrendered to shelters. The clinic is open seven days a week to serve pet owners who cannot afford or do not have access to basic veterinary care, and rescue organizations that need low-cost spay/neuter surgery to carry out their lifesaving work. It also contains housing for animals rescued by PAWS. The clinic serves more than 18,000 animals annually.

PAWS plays a leading role in keeping pets healthy, reducing the homeless animal population, and making Philadelphia a city in which every healthy and treatable pet is guaranteed a home. Our capital campaign this year focuses on paying for the Grant Avenue location, which allows us to further our mission by reaching a new audience of adopters, foster families and pet owners.
